

Published October 08 2012

Faces & Names: Author of book on the civil rights movement gives reading in Duluth

Duluth's Sue Sojourner (left) and Shauna JaMai Ames of the Twin Cities embrace at a reading of Sojourner's forthcoming civil rights movement book, "Thunder of Freedom," at Temple Israel in Duluth on Sunday. Sojourner lived in Holmes County, Mississippi, for much of the 1960s, working on voting rights and other issues with activists including Ames' mother, Zelma Williams Croom.

Have an event that just happened that you'd like to share? Pictures, perhaps, or other goings-on from the Northland to Hollywoodland? Send them to facesandnames@duluthnews.com.